Mission

- To make room for all learners to develop their potential and acquire necessary skills which will make them marketable and thus contribute to the economy of their country, thus promoting patriotism.
- To promote communication which will enhance the learners' performance in every school activity; thus developing high self-esteem, confidence, sense of accountability and responsibility.
- To encourage team spirit that will help them to be sensitive to the aged and the vulnerable, including those affected by HIV and AIDS.

Vision

We have a vision of an institution in which all stakeholders that are involved in education come together to create an environment where peace and tranquillity prevails; and is also conducive to quality education, enabling learners to maximise their potential and realise their dreams with support from visionary, supportive and committed educators and community.

School Motto

"Impumelelo Isentabeni" meaning success is on the mountain and one has to climb to reach it ...

Mr Z. Ntabeni was appointed principal of Toise SSS this month. We would like to wish Mr Ntabeni all the best for this important role he will be playing in so many lives.

You totally don't want to think about it right now, but finals are just around the corner. That means you can add studying for them to your already vast to-do list. Here are some helpful hints on how to prepare for your exams and get everything else done.

Tip 1: Start early

Preparation for exams should begin earlier than the day before the test. You can't cram an entire unit of information into an all-nighter. Get started at least a week before the exam.

Tip 2: Organize

Begin by making yourself a calendar outlining a daily schedule of topics for review. Cover a small amount of material for each class each day. Every time you complete a topic, give yourself a mini review.

Tip 3: Outline

Once you have decided what you need to study and how much time you need to spend studying, it is time to actually study. One of the best ways is to make succinct outlines. As you read over your textbook and class notes, write a brief summary for each topic. Highlight the areas in your outline that were most troublesome. When you have finished with all the material, you will have an outline you can review.

Tip 4: Make flashcards

Similar to outlining, making flashcards is a really helpful technique for studying. By writing down the information from your outline, you are already doing half the studying. Once the flashcards are complete, you will have a portable study packet to look over.

Tip 5: Get help

If you are having trouble memorizing something or a particular concept is just not sinking in, get help before it's too late. Ask your teacher to go over a glitch you might be having. Or if memorizing 200 vocabulary words seems like too much to do, recruit your family members to quiz you with index cards.

Tip 6: Sleep

You need at least seven hours of sleep a night to function. Tests are designed to make you think. If you are sleep-deprived, you won't be able to remember any of the information you worked so hard to cram into your brain.

Tip 7: Stay calm

Do not panic at the exam! Even if at first glance the test is overwhelming, remember to breathe. If a question seems too hard, answer all the questions you know, then return to the ones you left blank. Remind yourself that you are prepared.

Tip 8: Don't rush

You have spent at least two weeks studying, so what's another couple of minutes? Work through the exam slowly and read all the questions before answering them. If you are done before the time is up, look over your answers.
